

Edison's Latest Invention

The New Edison

Is not a talking machine. It embodies a new art, whereby all forms of music are actually re-created so perfectly that you can't distinguish the re-creation from the original.

The music critics of the leading newspapers have heard the test and acknowledge the truth of this assertion. A booklet containing their critiques will be furnished on request.

May Play for Purse—

On account of the feeling aroused here over the game last Sunday be- tween the locals and Medford, a re- turn game on neutral territory is probable. The two teams will have a purse of $150 to play for, besides the satisfaction of winning the game.

Ashland will be chosen as the battle- ground if the teams come to an un- derstanding, and the game will be called for the 28th. The same line- up that started the game here will be played. The management of the Medford team has changed, the for- mer manager having resigned and a new one elected. The Grants Pass team is scheduled to play in Klam- ath Falls the coming Sunday.

Do Drop Inn" Enjoys Much Company

The hostesses of "Do Drop Inn," the Brittens, Dillinghams and Fitz- gerald, entertained a jolly crowd at dinner yesterday noon at the camp near Savage rapids. The guests were Mrs. Drake, Miss Millie Drake, M. Murphy, Ray Murphy, Miss Genevieve McCracken, and Paul Kirker. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Churchill and Mr. and Mrs. Pattillo brought loaded baskets and all enjoyed a picnic supper, then gathered around a large bonfire to enjoy the usual camp program.

Water Users Meeting Tonight—

The meeting of water users under the north and south side ditches will be held this evening in the assembly room of the Commercial club. It is important that the meeting be largely attended that the problems that con- front the producers may be discussed and a solution arrived at.

Promoting Sugar Factory—

Geo. W. Sanders, head of the Rogue River Public Service corporation, is now at the head of a company that is promoting the establishment of a sugar factory at Hamilton, Montana, in the Bitterroot valley. Mr. Sand- ers wrote from Salt Lake last week that he expected to be in Grants Pass this week.

Auto to Ashland—

Two auto loads of Grants Passites visited Ashland Chautauqua yester- day. One auto contained the Will Ireland family and Mrs. George Riddle, and another Mr. and Mrs. George Cramer. A large number of the local people have participated in the Chautauqua.

Inspect Experiment Station—

A number of farmers from this vicinity are contemplating a trip to the southern Oregon experiment sta- tion at Talent on Thursday of next week to inspect the work being done there. It is especially desired to note the progress of the various fer- tilizer experiments in the culture of alfalfa and clover.

Oregon Writer Visits City—

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Stovall and two children and Mrs. Stovall's mother, Mrs. Freed, former residents of Grants Pass, arrived yesterday from their home at Philomath, Ore., and will spend a few days visiting old friends and attending to business matters. They will visit Crater lake and return home through eastern Oregon, visiting relatives on the way. Mr. Stovall devotes his entire time to writing, principally stories.

Railroad Men Depart—

Messrs. E. O. McCormick, vice- president, and John M. Scott, general passenger agent, left for the south on passenger No. 15 Wednesday af- ternoon, having made a hurry-up run in from Hell Gate to catch the train. The gentlemen had much success fish- ing at Hell Gate, near the Twohy ranch on the Rogue, and each landed some nice trout. Mr. McCormick caught a fine steelhead that gave him a thrilling scrap before it was landed, besides a number of smaller trout.

More Funds for the City—

The police are still out with the big hook after violators of the pro- visions of the traffic ordinance. As the law against cutting corners and driving on the wrong side of the street has not been very stringently enforced in the past, some drivers find it difficult to shape their habits to the new order of things. Today's grist-turned in by the watchful cops netted the city $25, Attorney Hough being charged $15 for cutting a corner, while W. S. Maxwell put up a ten spot for being on the wrong side of the street.

Tourists Are Coming—

The stream of tourists is now equal in volume almost to the height of the season last year. A large proportion of the travelers this year come from California, whose residents had to stay at home and entertain in 1915. Every day, however, cars from the east are seen, today one each from Indiana, South Dakota and Kansas having passed through the city. The most of the travelers are carrying their own camp outfits and the Riverside auto park is filled nearly every night. Many of the parties stop over a day or two to rest and repair their autos.

MILITIA WELCOMES COOLER WEATHER

Columbus, N. M., July 13.—With the opening of the rainy season, the intense heat of the desert has given way to coolness until the military men stationed here complained that it was too chilly for only one blanket last night. When the sun rose today the base camp resembled a huge laundry. The tents and company streets were fairly covered with blankets, uniforms and clothing of soldiers spread to dry out dampness. In the cool morning hours the mili- tiamen were taken on long hikes across the desert east of the base. Throughout the day militiamen may be seen crawling in thin lines across the yellow plains in maneuvers.

sive thus far, but the Newfoundland troops have distinguished them- selves.

"The Newfoundland battalion was pushed up in what may be called the third wave in the attack on probably the most formidable section of the whole German front, through an al- most overwhelming artillery fire, across ground swept by machine gun fire from hidden positions," said one dispatch. "The men behaved with complete noble steadiness and cour- age."

On the eastern front the operations east of Kovel have reached a tem- porary lull, with the Russians and Austro-Germans redistributing their forces and bringing up artillery along the Stochod river for a renewal of heavy fighting.

SUN SPOTS CAUSE WEATHER PRANKS

Cleveland, July 13.—The Rev. Father F. L. Odenbach, scientist at St. Ignatius college here, says the United States is not going to have any summer this year. Father Oden- bach based his prediction on his dis- covery of 25 big new spots on the sun.

"It's the most spots I have ever seen on the sun at one time," said the professor. "It indicates abnormal weather conditions, and probably means an extremely cool summer."

"The sun spots don't directly con- trol the weather conditions, but their influence is electric and magnetic on the atmosphere, and this influence, combined with local weather factors, determines the weather."

"This year is the 100th anniversary of the country's famous summerless year of 1816. In that year there were killing frosts each month and corn for seed sold for $7 a bushel. That would mean about $28 a bushel this year, by comparison."

"None of the sun spots is visible to the naked eye, yet they can be photographed. One of these bigger ones has a diameter of about 1,000 miles and covers the whole eastern and central portion of the United States."

"The spots are eruptions on the sun's surface, are gaseous, and prob- ably flare out from the sun a hundred or two hundred thousand miles."

CRISIS NEAR IN SOMME BATTLE

London, July 13.—The second phase of the British offensive is ap- proaching a crisis in the battle north- east of Albert, where British forces are striving to advance two miles eastward to the heights of Martin- puch.

The Germans have thrown two whole army corps into action on both sides of the Albert-Bapaume road to defend the approaches to Bapaume. They are making the most savage counter-attacks, particularly south- east of Contalmaison, where a Ger- man success would hold up the whole British advance.

German correspondents, admitting the great power of the British offen- sive, claim that the attacking forces have suffered heavily in losses, com- parative only to the casualties at Ver- dun. British correspondents claim the British losses have been severe only in the death grapple for villages, where the German machine guns have played on the British lines.

No Canadian or Australian troops have taken part in the Somme offen-
